OUR 17 CAMPUSES

The University of North Carolina's 17 campuses extend from the state's mountains to the coast. Nearly 225,000 students are enrolled at 16 universities and the NC School of Science and Mathematics, the country's first public residential high school for gifted students. Each year, we graduate more than 30,000 students from over 200 academic degree programs. Our graduates emerge as leaders, creators and researchers, prepared to connect with and give back to the communities that have supported UNC for more than two centuries.
